WHITE PURSUED HER.

Twice, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Says, He Tried to Force Attention Upon Her.

AFTER SHE HAD MARRIED THAW

Told Her Husband of These Attempts, Whereupon He Became Greatly Excited—District Attorney Jerome Objects to "Defamation of the Dead."

New York, Feb. 9.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw again was the central figure at her husband's trial. She was still on the stand—her direct examination unfinished when the case went to adjournment until Monday morning was taken.

Picking up the threads of her story where she dropped them the evening before, the girl wife of the defendant—always, she declared, told her story when she was weak and alone—brought the narrative down to her wedding at Pittsburgh, on April 4, 1905, and their return to New York following a honeymoon trip in the West. She declared she had heard White call to her in the street, once after this and then on another occasion when she passed him in a cab, she noticed his cab turn around and follow her in the direction of a doctor's office where she was going to have her throat treated.

Mrs. Thaw had taken up the story at the time of her return from Europe in October, 1903, following her refusal of Thaw's offer of marriage. On Monday she may be called upon to finish the relation of the events which it is claimed by the defense brought on the explosive impulse in Thaw's mind which caused the killing of Stanford White.

While the day's testimony was lacking in the personalities which made the previous day's recitation so dramatic it served to clear away some of the doubts and uncertainties which remained in the minds of the jury as to the full extent of the revelations she claims to have made to her husband. There were repetitions, too, at the suggestion of counsel, and incidents which had not been gone over in the first years of Mrs. Thaw's acquaintance with Stanford White were brought out.

District Attorney Jerome, who had throughout silently listened to the young wife's statements, sent a thrill of excitement through the courtroom late in the day by jumping to his feet and vigorously objecting to this "defamation of the dead."

"Is there no limit?" he exclaimed, "to the aspirations that are to be cast upon this man. Your honor will know I cannot, under the law, controvert any statement this witness might make against the memory of Stanford White."

In tones bitterly sarcastic, Mr. Jerome spoke of "this little of the tenderloin," and declared that the court had the right to limit such testimony until competent evidence has been adduced here to show that this man is, or was, of unsound mind. "We don't know whether this defendant ever was insane," he concluded.

Stanford White, of course. The question which called out the vehement protest from the district attorney was addressed to Mrs. Thaw by Mr. Delmas and its purpose was to show that her husband had at any time told her about "other girls" who had met a fate similar to yours at the hands of this man."

"What man?" snapped Mr. Jerome. "Stanford White," replied Mr. Delmas with the calmness of a man who is sure of his ground. "He was the man who was the cause of the death of Stanford White, and then added in the same low tone, 'who else?'"

Justice Fitzgerald held that the district attorney's suggestion was a good one and he thought the defense should lay a broader foundation for its purpose before proceeding along the lines suggested by Mr. Delmas's question.

"We will proceed to do this as soon as possible," announced the attorney. Mrs. Thaw declared that Stanford White, during the years which followed her marriage, repeatedly sought to have her visit him alone. "I told her," she said, "that Mr. White had begged, had pleaded and cried and scolded, and had done everything he could to make me come to see him alone. I refused and he told me I was cruel and that I was as cold as a fish, and was not a human being. I told Mr. White I didn't care to trust him."

Wrongly Accused by Thaw. After her return from Europe and during the months she would not see Harry Thaw "because of the dreadful things Mr. White and his friends told me about him," she declared Thaw accused her of improper relations with the architect.

"I told him that was a lie and that I had not," she testified with an emphatic show of feeling. The defense had Mrs. Thaw tell of another incident in her life—her acquaintance with Jack Barrymore, the actor. Mr. Barrymore was in court one day during the early part of the trial at the instance of the district attorney. If it were said, Mr. Delmas asked Mrs. Thaw to tell what she had told Mr. Thaw of her acquaintance with the actor.

She said she had first met Barrymore at a party given by Stanford White. He was in the employ of John B. Detweiler of Red Lion. Detweiler refused to prosecute, but told Lock that everything was square and he could take his old position at $10 a month raise in salary.

I said, 'I don't know,' and everybody laughed. Mr. White told me I would be very foolish to marry Mr. Barrymore and my mother said so, too, and we all quivered, and the spook of the whole thing was that Mr. White said I ought to be sent away to some school, and I was, to New Jersey."

White Still Pursues Her. After leading the witness to tell in chronological order of the incidents of her wedding with Thaw in Pittsburgh, Mr. Delmas asked her if she had ever seen Stanford White after her return to New York from her honeymoon trip.

"I passed Stanford White one day on Fifth avenue. I was in a cab and he saw me and I heard him say, 'Evelyn,' just like that," and Mrs. Thaw raised her voice as if to call someone. "I went back to our hotel and told Harry and he said, 'The dirty blackguard! He had no right to speak to you.' The next time I saw him I was driving to Dr. Delavan's office to have my throat treated. Stanford White was also in a cab. He just stared at me this time and stroked his mustache. I turned into Thirtieth street off Fifth avenue and as I alighted at the doctor's door I saw Stanford White coming. I rang the bell and the maid came to the door. Mrs. Thaw said that she told her husband that Stanford White "had approached or attempted to speak to her."

Abie Hummel in the Case. The day began with a continuance of the reading of the letters from Harry Thaw to Mr. Longfellow, written after Evelyn Nesbit's revelations to her suitor in Paris. There were others, too, which Thaw had sent the attorney to deliver to Miss Nesbit, who at the time would not see him.

Mrs. Thaw followed these with a relation of her experiences with Stanford White and Lawyer Hummel concerning the reading of the letters from Harry Thaw to Mr. Longfellow, written after Evelyn Nesbit's revelations to her suitor in Paris. There were others, too, which Thaw had sent the attorney to deliver to Miss Nesbit, who at the time would not see him.

Mrs. CHARLES J. HOLMAN. (Evelyn Thaw's mother.)

concerning the alleged affidavit which she had made charging Harry Thaw with having taken her from her mother against her will and with gross cruelty.

Mrs. Thaw told how she had been induced to answer some questions about herself and Mr. Thaw at the time, and had been told the stories about his "cruelty to girls." Stanford White had told her, she declared, that it was necessary to take drastic measures to protect her from such a person and that Harry Thaw must be kept out of New York. She denied that she had ever signed any papers in Mr. Hummel's office, but said she remembered having signed some papers for Mr. White in "his offices," the contents of which she did not know.

When she got frightened about the papers and demanded to see them, she said, Mr. White took her to Hummel's office and there they burned a paper which had her name at the bottom of it. She was not allowed to see what the paper contained before it was destroyed.

Hummel Squeezes White. This feature of Mrs. Thaw's story was made amusing at times by her interjections of the names which Harry Thaw had applied to the lawyer and Mr. White's satirical questioning as to what she had told him.

She declared she had told the lawyer nothing. "Well," Mr. White said to me, "he went on, 'There is something wrong somewhere. He has just squeezed a thousand dollars out of me and the Lord only knows how soon he will squeeze another.' I then remembered having told Mr. Hummel, when he threatened things about Mr. Thaw, that he had better be careful for Mr. Thaw knew a lot of terrible things about Stanford White."

The defense endeavored to get into evidence the wills of Harry Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit Thaw executed the night of their wedding in Pittsburgh. There were so many interjections, additions and erasures, that Justice Fitzgerald held the documents were not admissible until the changes were proven. Mr. Delmas said he would later endeavor to do this, as the wills and the interjections and a codicil by Harry Thaw had to do with the proof tending to show the insanity of the defendant. It came out in the discussion the wills that the name of Stanford White occurred in Thaw's testament.

York, Pa., Feb. 9.—Warren L. Lock, superintendent of a Sunday school at Red Lion, confessed that he had robbed the most forgiving employer on earth of $600 and wanted to be arrested. He was in the employ of John B. Detweiler of Red Lion. Detweiler refused to prosecute, but told Lock that everything was square and he could take his old position at $10 a month raise in salary.

From Westmoreland's County Seat.

GREENSBURG, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Jacob Painter, 75 years old, was burned to death at her home a mile west of Irwin yesterday. When she arose in the morning, she struck a match under a table to light a fire. The match head flew off, lighting the tablecloth. Her clothing ignited from the flames, and before help came she was fully burned. She lingered until six o'clock in the evening and then died.

Mrs. Painter was the only surviving sister of J. L. Kunkle, of Greensburg, and a remarkable thing is that three of her sisters died within the past two years. They were Mrs. Elizabeth Kiefer of Penn.; Mrs. Sarah Jane Thompson of near Adamsburg; and Mrs. Catherine Holman of Beaver county. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

Wade E. Eckard, who is interested in some Westmoreland county coal deals, and who has been around and about over the county much recently, lost two pocketbooks containing valuable papers last night. The important papers of the papers is such that their loss is serious, and Wade is making a careful effort to find them.

The attorneys of Westmoreland county are getting together on a uniform fee bill. At a meeting of the Westmoreland Law Association held last night quite a lengthy fee bill was presented. It will be printed and a copy sent to each member of the Association for examination and suggestion. The action of the attorneys is not, it is understood, an effort to raise fees, but to get a uniform schedule of charges that can be strictly adhered to.

The meeting also considered a short form of deed which had been framed and presented. As soon as it has been revised, it will be forwarded, in its new form, to the Westmoreland county Assemblymen, and every possible effort will be made to have it enacted into a law. The new form of deed is more than one-fourth shorter than the old deed, is more concise and very much easier filed out. Its binding strength, it is claimed, is just as strong as the other form.

A true bill was found by the Grand Jury yesterday in the case of Prof. F. R. House of Smithfield, charged by Miss Christina Baker with felonious assault and battery. Miss Baker or her Chief of Police Hutchinson were the only two who were called to testify before the Grand Jury, and the case seemed so plain that it was soon disposed of. The House case will be taken up the first thing Monday morning, and promises to be one of the most interesting during the present session. This is District Attorney Wentling's maiden term of court, and he is working hard. He will wear a new hat at the expense of Sheriff Geo. B. Seamon, because he won his first case, despite the big and genial Sheriff's opinion to the contrary.

"Soda Water Sal" is the title of Sperrman's railroad story which will be printed in The Courier tomorrow.

F. O. GOODWIN'S PLATFORM FOR COUNCIL IN FOURTH WARD.

In Statement Issued Today He Says He Is Running as a Candidate Pledged to Clean Borough Government.

RING WILL NOT CONTROL HIM.

Report to That Effect Had Been Started With Intent of Injuring His Chances of Election—Will Act Only for People, He Says.

F. O. Goodwin, candidate for Town Council on the Democratic ticket in the Fourth Ward, is out with a statement explaining his platform. He intends to put some ginger into the election in the Fourth Ward and while running on the Democratic ticket, he will not be controlled by the Democratic Ring in the following statement:

"I propose to make an energetic campaign for Town Council in the Fourth Ward. I am running on the Democratic ticket. On that ticket I was nominated, but it does not preclude the support of citizens of any political faith or party. My campaign is not being made along political lines in this respect an effort has been made to injure my chances of election. It looks suspiciously malicious. It has been rumored, in fact deliberately started from house to house in the Fourth Ward, that I am the candidate of the Democratic Ring in the Fourth Ward. It has been said that my nomination was due to that influence and that if elected a member of Council the dictation of the so-called Democratic Ring would be the guiding spirit in all my actions as a member of the Council. Such a statement could be further from the truth. I trust and hope I shall have the support of the Democratic party on election day. I trust and hope I shall get the support of every good citizen in the ward. Let it be distinctly understood that I am not a member of the Democratic Ring, and that no political organization, party, ring or individual will control my actions or service should I be elected. My platform will be a square and honest deal all around. It will be my special privilege to be on Council to represent the citizens of the Fourth Ward in particular, and the people of Connellsville in general. By representing them I do not mean to agree and go along with any plans or man a party clique may hatch up, but to learn the will of the citizens of the Fourth Ward and vote their desires. A member of Council is my understanding is but a representative of the voters of his ward and the borough, and he is in duty bound to act in accordance with the wishes of the majority, which are never difficult to learn.

"Truthfulness is not the source of the inspiration responsible for the report circulated by a defeated candidate for nomination, that I am a ring candidate. While I am a candidate on the Democratic ticket I want to make the statement and promise right here that I shall be as faithful to the individual interests of a Republican as I would be to that of a Democrat should I be elected. I cannot before the voters of the Fourth Ward act as a Democrat or as a Republican. I want to go into Council to make good the declarations and promises I have here made and which I will continue to make until the eve of election day. I am running for Council on the platform of a man whose business and political dealings are open and above board and which have always been clear and honest. I am not posing as a reformer. Any good citizen can just as easily distinguish between right and wrong in Council as out of it. If wrong is done in Council I will not be the man to shield and cover it up should an investigation be warranted. I want to put myself on record as making the promise that I am first, last and all the time for clean municipal government, with no taint of graft, and for the management of borough affairs without favoritism and in a businesslike manner.

"I am working no combinations to secure this election. Combinations are a bad thing. They savor of politics. They are lasting, often remaining in effect after election as well as before it, when they are productive of experiences fresh in the memory of Connellsville taxpayers.

"I fully appreciate what support means and know that I must have loyal support to be elected to Council in the Fourth Ward. But I would shun it as much and be a traitor to my own convictions, did I not at this time make the public statement that I will not go into Town Council with any strings attached to me except that held by the citizens and voters in general in the Fourth Ward." ADVERTISING.
THE DAILY COURIER has double the circulation of any other daily newspaper in Fayette county and the Con-nelville edition and it is better distributed for the general advertiser.
It is the only paper that presents each week two statements of circulation.
THE SUNDAY COURIER runs in the seventh day for the daily edition.
It speaks for itself. It is a big local paper with all the telegraphic news of the world and all the up-to-date features of Sunday journalism. The Daily and Sunday completely cover the advertising field with a circulation ap-proximating over 30,000 weekly.
THE WEEKLY COURIER is the organ of the Connelville coke trade and one of the newest weeklies in Fayette county.

SATURDAY EVENING, FEB. 9, 1907.

A TROLLEY PARK.
The West Penn will establish an amusement park near Greensburg. The company has one at McKeesport and there is an excellent one on its lines
near Uniontown.
If these parks pay, we fail to understand why one would not pay close to Connelville, with all the populous adjacent territory to draw from. Including Scotland and Everett, Dunbar, Dawson and Vanderbilt, not to mention the numerous coke villages within a few minutes ride.

The parks now located and in operation are too far away for these trolleys. Something near to Connelville would be close enough to attract people
during the summer months.
The West Penn management should think it over.

THAT PRESS ASSOCIATION.
The doctors and undertakers, merchants and lawyers, teachers and preachers, all have organized themselves into associations for pleasure and profit, but the newspaper fraternity continue to seclude themselves
in their sanctums and write saucy
chapters about each other and everybody else.

There's no harm in writing things readable even if they are not always ponderous. The harm lies in seclusion. Man is a sociable animal, and woman has a loving disposition, provided each is endowed with the attributes common to nature. We recently suggested the formation of a press association on business and social lines, but the Fayette county editors seem to be too busy attending to other people's business and promoting others' pleasure to give thought to their own. In making this statement, we judge our fellow-workmen by ourselves.

Perhaps some legal and universal holiday will find the craft with a few hours' leisure time on hand which may be devoted to the promotion of their own interests.

CAMPAIGN ADVERTISING.
The stump speaker is a thing of the past. The newspaper has taken his place. The newspaper reaches everybody because it is within reach of everybody. It is all but given away and it is largely delivered at the door of the household. All the people have to do after supper or after breakfast is to sit down in comfort and absorb their politics together with the news of the day.

The wise candidate is wise to these facts, and he utilizes the newspapers to reach the voters. Campaign advertising, once unknown, is quite common. The municipal campaign is opening up and with it campaign advertising. It is proper for the newspapers to publish such matter concerning the claims of rival candidates as is confined to proper language and reasonable statement, taking care to disclaim all responsibility for the matter by putting the advertising label on it.
For years this practice has prevailed in Pittsburgh and other cities and the public has been none the worse off for it; on the contrary, they have been enabled to exercise better judgment
when the arguments of all sides have been impartially presented to them
through the columns of the press.

The Courier will continue to print advertising matter for the candidates without regard to party. "Come early and avoid the rush."

LESSONS OF EXPERIENCE.
The manufacture of Swedish iron in Virginia by a Scottish company proved to be a bad mix.

Now process of new inventions
should always be tried out thoroughly on a small and inexpensive scale before building a big mill or factory for their production on a large scale involving large expenditures.

Connellville has had some costly experience in this line. Scotland is just getting here. The lessons of experience are dearly bought, but there is consolation in the thought that they are often cheapest in the end.

TWO-CENT MILEAGE.

The passage by the West Virginia
Legislature of a bill limiting passenger fares on the steam railways of the State to two cents per mile reminds us that a similar proposition remains dormant in the Pennsylvania Legislature in spite of the popular demand and the declarations of the platform
of both leading political parties.
It is too late to discuss the wisdom
or justice of the two-cent mileage bill.
The Pennsylvania State administration and the Legislature are committed to
it. They gain nothing by deferring it.
The more the people lose by delay,
the more the legislators will lose for making that delay.

The demand for two-cent mileage will not be denied and the longer it is deferred the worse those who are tardy in their duty will suffer.

BOSS BURTON.

It is possible that Boss Burton will be able to demonstrate his right to the title. It is intimated that the Rivers and Harbors bill will be held in committee in the Senate until the eleventh hour, when the preponderant interests will force its passage as it stands rather than risk jeopardizing
the special bits of pork packed away
in the bill for the various sections represented by individual Senators.

The pork-packing system at Washington seems to be as badly in need of investigation and regulation in the interest of the people as were the Chicago establishments.

It is charged that the late Thomas Brackett Reed made the Speaker of the House a Car of legislation, but it seems that there are a lot of little Cears located around among the committee rooms.

The junk dealer who does not know
honest brass from the stolen article might improve his judgment if he tried hard to tell. It is always easier to buy second-hand railroad brass from the railroad companies. In any other hands, the goods may well be looked upon with suspicion, especially when they are offered at a small fraction of their value.

The railroads are suffering from another epidemic of wrocks.
Brownsville has lost another old
landmark, but the people have room for congratulation in the fact that the town is getting a great many new things.

Natural gas is a fine thing in its place, but when it escapes it usually manages to do up some devilish ulcers.

John D. Rockefeller's money-making methods have been severely criticized,
but there will be no objection to his manner of money spending if he continues to give to the cause of education
in thirty-two million dollar lumps.

Railway regulation has caught a fugman in its net.

The doctors and the undertakers
have such organized associations.
While there is a certain community of interest, there is no truth in the rumor that they contemplate consolidation.

Masquerading is not a serious offense, but the law forbids one sex impersonating another, for very excellent reasons.

The fugman who does not go back as far as the railroad tracks and has to answer before the bar of justice
as well as before the railway management.

The brother who sneers and smiles
over the story of his sister's shame, has little shame of his own left.

Point Marion is a small borough, but it is one of the most enterprising and progressive in Fayette county. It has a home telephone company with ultimate service. Such a town deserves a fine bridge. So do Connelville and New Haven.

We have heard of chorus girls being overcome, but not by natural gas.

The Uniform Primary law provides that in case of a tie the candidates shall cast lots. Suppose one of both of them were to go to Uniontown and try his or their luck before the County Commissioners, what are the lottery to do about it?

It's no wonder some of the County Commissioners kicked about the new primary law. It is enough to warrant a demand for increased salaries.

The Pure Food law ought to be extended to make safety matches safe.

The Westmoreland lawyers, following the example of the Fayette bar, will adopt a uniform fee bill. The Fayette and Westmoreland publishers
and printers should take the hint.

The lucking horse does not seem to take any stock in the ground hog as a weather prophet.

If the Government is going to run
the railroad, Hariman wants a job on the Interstate Commerce Commission.
He is eminently fit.

It is to be hoped that some of those official pipe dreams were permanently
frozen up along with the other pipes.

Iron Company of America
People Meet in Scottdale
on Friday.

THEY ARE MUCH DISSATISFIED.

Hursts to Put Up New Building—Lincoln's Birthday to Be Observed in the Schools—Mr. Williams of Harrisburg Speaks at Y. M. C. A. on Monday.

SCOTSDALE, Feb. 9.—Some more attempts were made to unravel what is considered to be a disquieting situation into which some stockholders of the Iron Company of America think they have fallen. Several of them met Friday afternoon at the borough building. The session was scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock, but the interested parties came in so slowly and far apart that it was nearly 3 o'clock when they got down to the work which did not last long. The Iron Company of America was formed here of local capital to exploit the secret of one Richard Robinson, who came from Pittsburgh with a scheme to make Swedish iron, a superior kind that is about as good a thing as a real good mine. He was a puffer and told glowing stories of how he had discovered a secret process that revolutionized iron making. He wanted to organize a company; his want was realized and many stockholders went into the plan, and began to look through the advertising sections of the magazines to see which kind of a motor car they would want to buy soon. A mill was bought down at Roanoke, Va. It was an up to date plant in every particular and men were sent there to run it according to the Robinson recipe of making iron. There must have been something wrong for the mill failed to turn out the kind of iron that was expected. Finally notes began to look in at the door, and ways and means were considered to meet them. The notes poured so sharply and riveted their gaze so closely upon the directors as their prey that the mill was sold to save the directors. They bought the mill and then owned it as a guarantee that their money would be safe for awhile and signed up for the notes themselves. The company was reorganized as the Loucks Iron Company and is preparing to start up to make old-fashioned everyday stuff, without any Robinson trimmings. Assessments were levied and some of the stockholders who had come about to the bottom of their socks refused to pay any more.

Then they sought lawyers to see if they could get back their money even if they did not get their right. They claim that the directors did not properly advertise the sale and some other things. Attorney H. E. Marker was here from Greensburg Friday and they will have him investigate the laws of Virginia as they relate to corporations. Just what the outcome will be is hard to guess.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Weaver, a son, on Friday. Mother and child are getting along fine.

Rev. and Mrs. O. H. P. Graham of Verona were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Stricker a couple of days this week. Rev. Graham was formerly pastor of the Scottdale Methodist Episcopal Church and is now pastor of the church at Verona.

W. E. Houseman, for a number of years a mechanical engineer with the H. C. Frick Coke Company, but who has been for the last year in Cleveland, O., is returning here with his family, to resume work with the Frick people.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Clarke are moving from their home on Loucks avenue, Scottdale, to Greensburg. Mr. Clarke is a member of W. M. Teichman & Company, large lumber dealers of Pittsburgh and travels for them throughout this section. Harry R. Hurst will remove with his family from his present home next to the Hurst building to the house vacated by Mr. Clarke. J. P. Grantham has bought the house of Mr. Hurst and will remove it to a lot that he owns here, while Mr. Hurst will erect another business block and apartment house on the site next to their present building, on Pittsburg and Hickory streets.

Col. William P. Hurst, the coal operator, accompanied by Dr. G. W. Newcomer of Conneltsville, have left for Florida, where they will spend several weeks and from there go to Cuba for the balance of the winter. The churches on Sunday will offer an interesting and varied program in a spiritual way. At the Presbyterian Church Rev. J. B. Lyle, pastor, the morning sermon will be on "A Beautiful Home Picture" and the evening one on "Are You Shod for Such a Journey?"

First Church of Christ, Rev. M. C. Frick, pastor, morning sermon, "Dying With Christ," evening sermon, "Rightly Dividing the Word."

Methodist Episcopal, Rev. W. C. Weaver, pastor, preaching at 10:15 by Rev. J. P. Murray, Presiding Elder. In the evening the pastor will preach on "The Linger Traffic—Our Country's Greatest Foe."

First Baptist Church, Rev. E. C. Kunkle, pastor, morning lecture on "Missions in Assyria," evening sermon, "A Good Confession," by Elder Jacobus Creek Methodist Episcopal Church, Rev. Archibald Auld, pastor, preaching at 3 P. M. by Presiding Elder, J. P. Murray, and the administration of the Communion.

United Brethren Church, Rev. W.

W. Williamson, pastor, morning sermon at 11 o'clock, subject "What the Scriptures Teach as to the Immortality of the Soul," evening sermon, "The Pentecostal Revival gloriously Continued."

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has ordered the turning on of the water in the plugs at Church, Monument, Pittsburg and Ruth streets in the borough where their water line from Indian Creek to Pittsburg passes, and which concession Council got from them for passing through the borough. This was about the only town that did get anything from the company and the borough did it without any scrap either.

Patrons and friends of the Scottdale schools are invited to attend the exercises that will be given in every room on Lincoln's Birthday, next Tuesday. The session begins at 2 o'clock in the afternoon instead of 1 o'clock as usual.

In order that the Association may have as their speaker for the evening, Harry Williams, of Harrisburg, it has become necessary to change the date of the Bible Extension Club to Monday at 6:15 P. M. There will be a supper and a very tasty menu is being sent out to the club members.

Live Right While You Live

Your home is your palace.
That's where you receive your friends.
That's where you do your living.
Then why not make it cozy and inviting?
You are a long time dead.
Live while you are here.

It is so easy to furnish a home on our credit plan that we wonder why there is a shabby home within reach of our house.

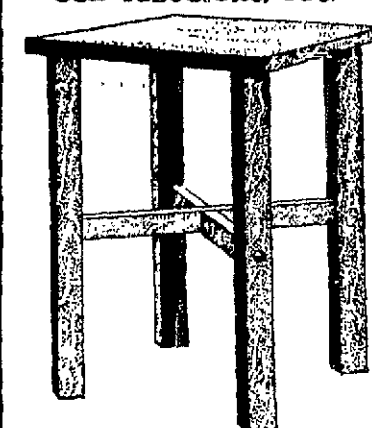

There should not be one—no, not one!
If there is a man or woman of limited means who desires and craves for a neat little home—it doesn't make any difference how small his or her income may be, we shall be glad to arrange matters so that making a home will be just as easy as it is for others more plentifully supplied with money.

Try it.
Get acquainted with us and our methods.
See what we have done for others.
Our outfit business is growing wonderfully.

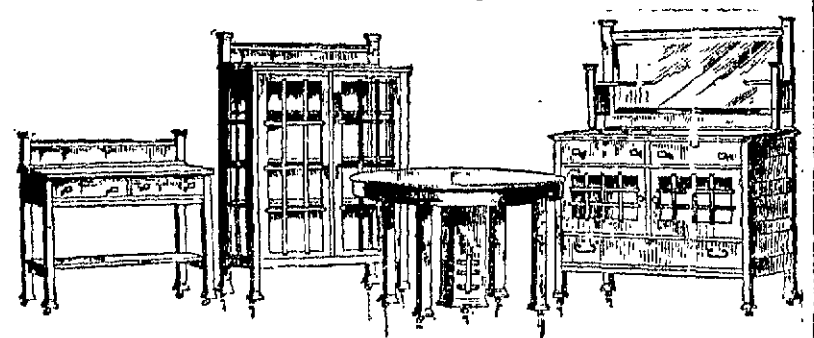

It's the modern way of furnishing a home.
And we think we have made it simple, safe, sane, satisfactory, serviceable and sure.
Whatever you do, do it right.
Live while you live.
It's certain you'll stay dead when you die.

RATE LAW DEFECTIVE.

Congressman Lamar of Florida Makes Warm Speech in Lower House.

ALSO FIRES SHOT AT SENATE

Says Their Acquittal of Judge Swayne Has Inflicted Rascally Judge on State and Country and Contaminated the Judiciary.

Washington, Feb. 9.—A scathing criticism of the so-called Hepburn law relating to the interstate commerce commission was made in the house of representatives by Mr. Lamar of Florida, who took occasion to say that there should be written into the law a provision empowering the interstate commerce commission to take the initiative in righting a wrong in railroad rates where a wrong exists.

He said the Republican party would have sat in the house for 20 years more without touching the railroad rate question if President Roosevelt had not thrown the issue under them like a bomb. The Hepburn rate law did not go half far enough and was full of defects, said Mr. Lamar.

Incident to his speech on the railroad rate law Mr. Lamar reviewed the recent impeachment trial of Judge Charles Swayne by the senate and said that notwithstanding his acquittal, "we have nevertheless a rascally judge in Florida." He said that it was unfortunate for the people of the state and unfortunate for the people of the country that the judiciary should be so contaminated. "But it does not do nothing to bring about his removal," added Mr. Lamar. "I can, however, from time to time, tell the house of this man's record."

Washington, Feb. 9.—The senate passed the Indian appropriation bill. Senator Prasher made an address on the subject of state's rights, after which the army appropriation bill, carrying a total of $32,500,000, was taken up. A new high record in the passage of private pension bills was made by the house when 725 bills were passed in an hour and a half. The army appropriation bill carrying $35,425,000 was taken up.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

New York, Feb. 9.—Dun's Review of Trade says today:

"Severe storms restricted new business in many sections of the country during the past week and increased the delay in making deliveries on old orders. Commodity prices advanced as a rule. Laborers report a good demand for spring delivery, especially in drygoods but business is retarded by slow shipments from the mills and collections are only fair. Manufacturing plants operate at full capacity in the leading industries, although there are complaints of fuel scarcity.

"Few variations are recorded in quotations of iron and steel, the industry fully maintaining its remarkably satisfactory position, although consumers find deliveries less prompt because of delays by deep snow and low temperature. The difficulty of placing securities has tended to retard railway extensions somewhat and new contracts for steel rails are not coming to the mills as rapidly as in the closing months of last year, but the tonnage already on the books will take all the output for many months. Specifications for structural shapes are large, the tonnage for bridges alone taking all the available material. Demand for pipe is abnormally heavy for the season, all large mills having their output sold up to July 1. Pressure for plates is also noteworthy and sheet mills are receiving orders well into the second half of the year."

CARS NOT STOREHOUSES

Harriman Says Shippers Are to Blame for Congestion.

New York, Feb. 9.—In reply to questions about his health, E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific railroads, said: "Everything has been going along smoothly, and they appear to be able to get along as well without me as with me. Why should I not stay at home altogether?"

"But I must work, and soon perhaps I may be looking for a new job. My recommendations are many years of experience on many railroads, in many railroad fields, and if they will raise the salary a bit, I may apply for a job on the interstate commerce commission, inasmuch as the commission is to run all the railroads I think they ought to want me."

One of the questions of the railroads of the country, Mr. Harriman said: "The railroads cannot build and supply cars for the shippers to use as storehouses. There are hardly enough cars for that. Yet the man to whom a load of freight is consigned thinks he ought to be privileged to use the railroad car as a storehouse as long as he likes. Limit the time the service of a car can be used by a procrastinating shipper and much of the present trouble will disappear."

Montreal Express Wrecked. Ossining, N. Y., Feb. 9.—The engineer and fireman of the Adirondack and Montreal express of the New York Central road were killed and several passengers slightly injured when the express ran into the rear end of a freight train two miles south of this place.

ADVANCE IN PAPER.

Manufacturers Give Notice of Increase All Along the Line.

The printers and stationery dealers of the country have received notice of a general advance in the prices of "writing" papers, under which trade name are included all paper stock used in account books and forms, letter and note heads, and envelopes. While there has been advances in various papers during the past few years, the present notice includes writing papers of every weight and ranges from five to twenty per cent. The result of this advance will be an increase in the cost of all varieties of stationery, as the special lines which have been advanced heretofore are included in the last general increase.

We announce this February occasion with considerably more than usual enthusiasm. In a great many ways we have reached out far in advance of past efforts, and have accomplished things that are as much of a delight to us as they will be to the women who select from these garments. There is more daintiness to the garments, and more refined and artistic finish all the way through, from the simplest to the most elaborate pieces. The whole store seems filled with bright, fresh, beautiful white garments and women will enjoy choosing while the first freshness is still on them. You cannot buy a badly made garment or one that is unworthy in either fabric or trimming in the entire collection, no matter how little you pay. Most of the story is as well known by you as by us. For the rest we invite you to come, with the assurance that you will be delighted and well repaid for your visit. The brief story of the garments follow:
